

Dr Fabith Moideen V M is a young, dynamic and highly reputed Emergency Physician from India.

He is presently working as the Chief of Emergency Medicine department at Baby memorial hospital, Calicut, India. He is also the state president for Society for Emergency Medicine (SEMI), Kerala chapter, India.

He has a vast clinical experience of over a decade in EM and possesses excellent academic and clinical background. He is also a recipient of various awards nationwide for his academic and extra circular work. Owing to his passion and various contributions for EM, he has been selected as the national course director for National Ultrasound Life support course (NULS) in India. He is also been chosen as the secretary for SONOSCHOOL, Turkey in 2017.

He has put tremendous efforts towards creating awareness among public about health related issues at various platforms. He is one of the directors of Mcare Apps which creates various medical apps for safe and better patient care.

His leisure activities includes wildlife photography, paintings and playing football.