

Dr. Zeki Atesli

Emergency physician working in the United Kingdom. Originally from Turkey. Lived and studied Medicine in Germany. Moved to England to improve his medical English.

Started using Ultrasound during his placement in General Surgery in Germany in 1996.

Extremely passionate about Point of Care Ultrasound in Acute and emergency care settings.

Has special interest in integrating POCUS into managing critically ill patients. I gained my Post Grad Certificate for POCUS in England and I am the Lead for POCUS in our Trust.

We run several courses (core and advanced) throughout the year in our trust, which have proved to be very successful.

Additional to this I teach on an international platform (EUSEM, AAEM, SonoScandinavia).
